

Heather Pollan is married to Eric Pollan of Eupora, Mississippi. They have been married for six years and have two children, Andy, 5 and Kaley, 3.

Ms. Pollan graduated from Mississippi State University in the spring of 2010. She graduated with honors. Her Bachelor's degree is in secondary education with a concentration in Social Studies. From August 2010 to May 2011 she attended graduate school at Mississippi State University and majored in History. She student taught at East Webster High School in Mathiston. She also taught United States History for one year while attending graduate school at MSU.